

What we do

Our centre's committed staff, volunteers and students provide specialist services in matters relating to Social Security and Disability Discrimination.

Advice is provided initially by telephone and is often followed up with printed material.

Casework services are prioritised towards vulnerable people. As our resources are limited we have to restrict the casework and representation that we undertake. We have Casework Guidelines to direct us. Please ask if you would like to see them.

Where an issue has an impact on the broader community we may:

- Develop and conduct Community Education activities; and/or
- Participate in law reform projects where we advocate on behalf of the community.

Membership information

Our Team

Basic Rights Queensland Inc carries out its work with a small team of paid staff, assisted by volunteers.

In 2016—2017 the BRQ staff team was made up of 4 full-time and 6 part-time positions.

We would like to thank the students, volunteers and members of the Management Committee who give their time and experience. Their contribution is invaluable.

Funding

Basic Rights Queensland Inc is funded by the State Department of Justice and Attorney-General and the Commonwealth Attorney-General's Department through the Community Legal Services Program.

BRQ also relies on its sponsors and donors. We would particularly like to thank our long-term sponsor, the Electrical Trades Union: Queensland Branch.

BRQ is also grateful for the pro-bono assistance we received during 2016-2017 from Minter Ellison.

Donations over $2.00 are tax-deductible.

The areas we service

Based in Brisbane, BRQ is a state-wide, telephone-based service, offering the same expert, specialist services to all clients, whether they live in Brisbane or Boulia.
